CLASS WILL

Charles Landman wills his gift of gab to Nancy Schaffer, and his excess intelligence to Mrs. Morris to be given to the future bookkeeping students. His athletic ability goes to Jay Nys.

Marylu Rhodes wills her curly hair to Carol White, and her drivers license to Dona Kent, who surely needs one. Marylu's low chuckle is passed on to Wayne Guy, and may he use it. She wills all her former Evanston boyfriends to Donnie Mathis's tender care.

LaRee Dunn wills her love for sports to Carol Anglemyer. To Helen Nutt she wills her soft voice. LaRee wills Lloyd to Patty Ann for "KICKS".

Murial McClellan wills her "cast off" boyfriends to Linda since Lindy has such a great love for men. She gives Connie her black hair and brown eyes. Murial's love for Chicago goes to Charles Fick, may he switch from tractors to street-cars!

Kathleen Williams wills her skirts to Evelyn Van, and if any are left over, please pass them on to Barbara Zahorik. Her blonde hair goes to Karen (Red) Holmes, may she be a strawberry blonde. She gives to Billy Tom her intelligence and ability of knowing when silence is best.

Fat Mullany wills his height to Artie Smeester so he may see the world. His waistline is willed to Lloyd Backus. His levis he wills to Joan Fick, and to Wayne Guy goes Pat's athletic ability. Pat wants Charlie Van to have his truck; he thinks Charlie is in need of a new hot-rod. All of Pat's girls are willed to anyone in need of trouble.

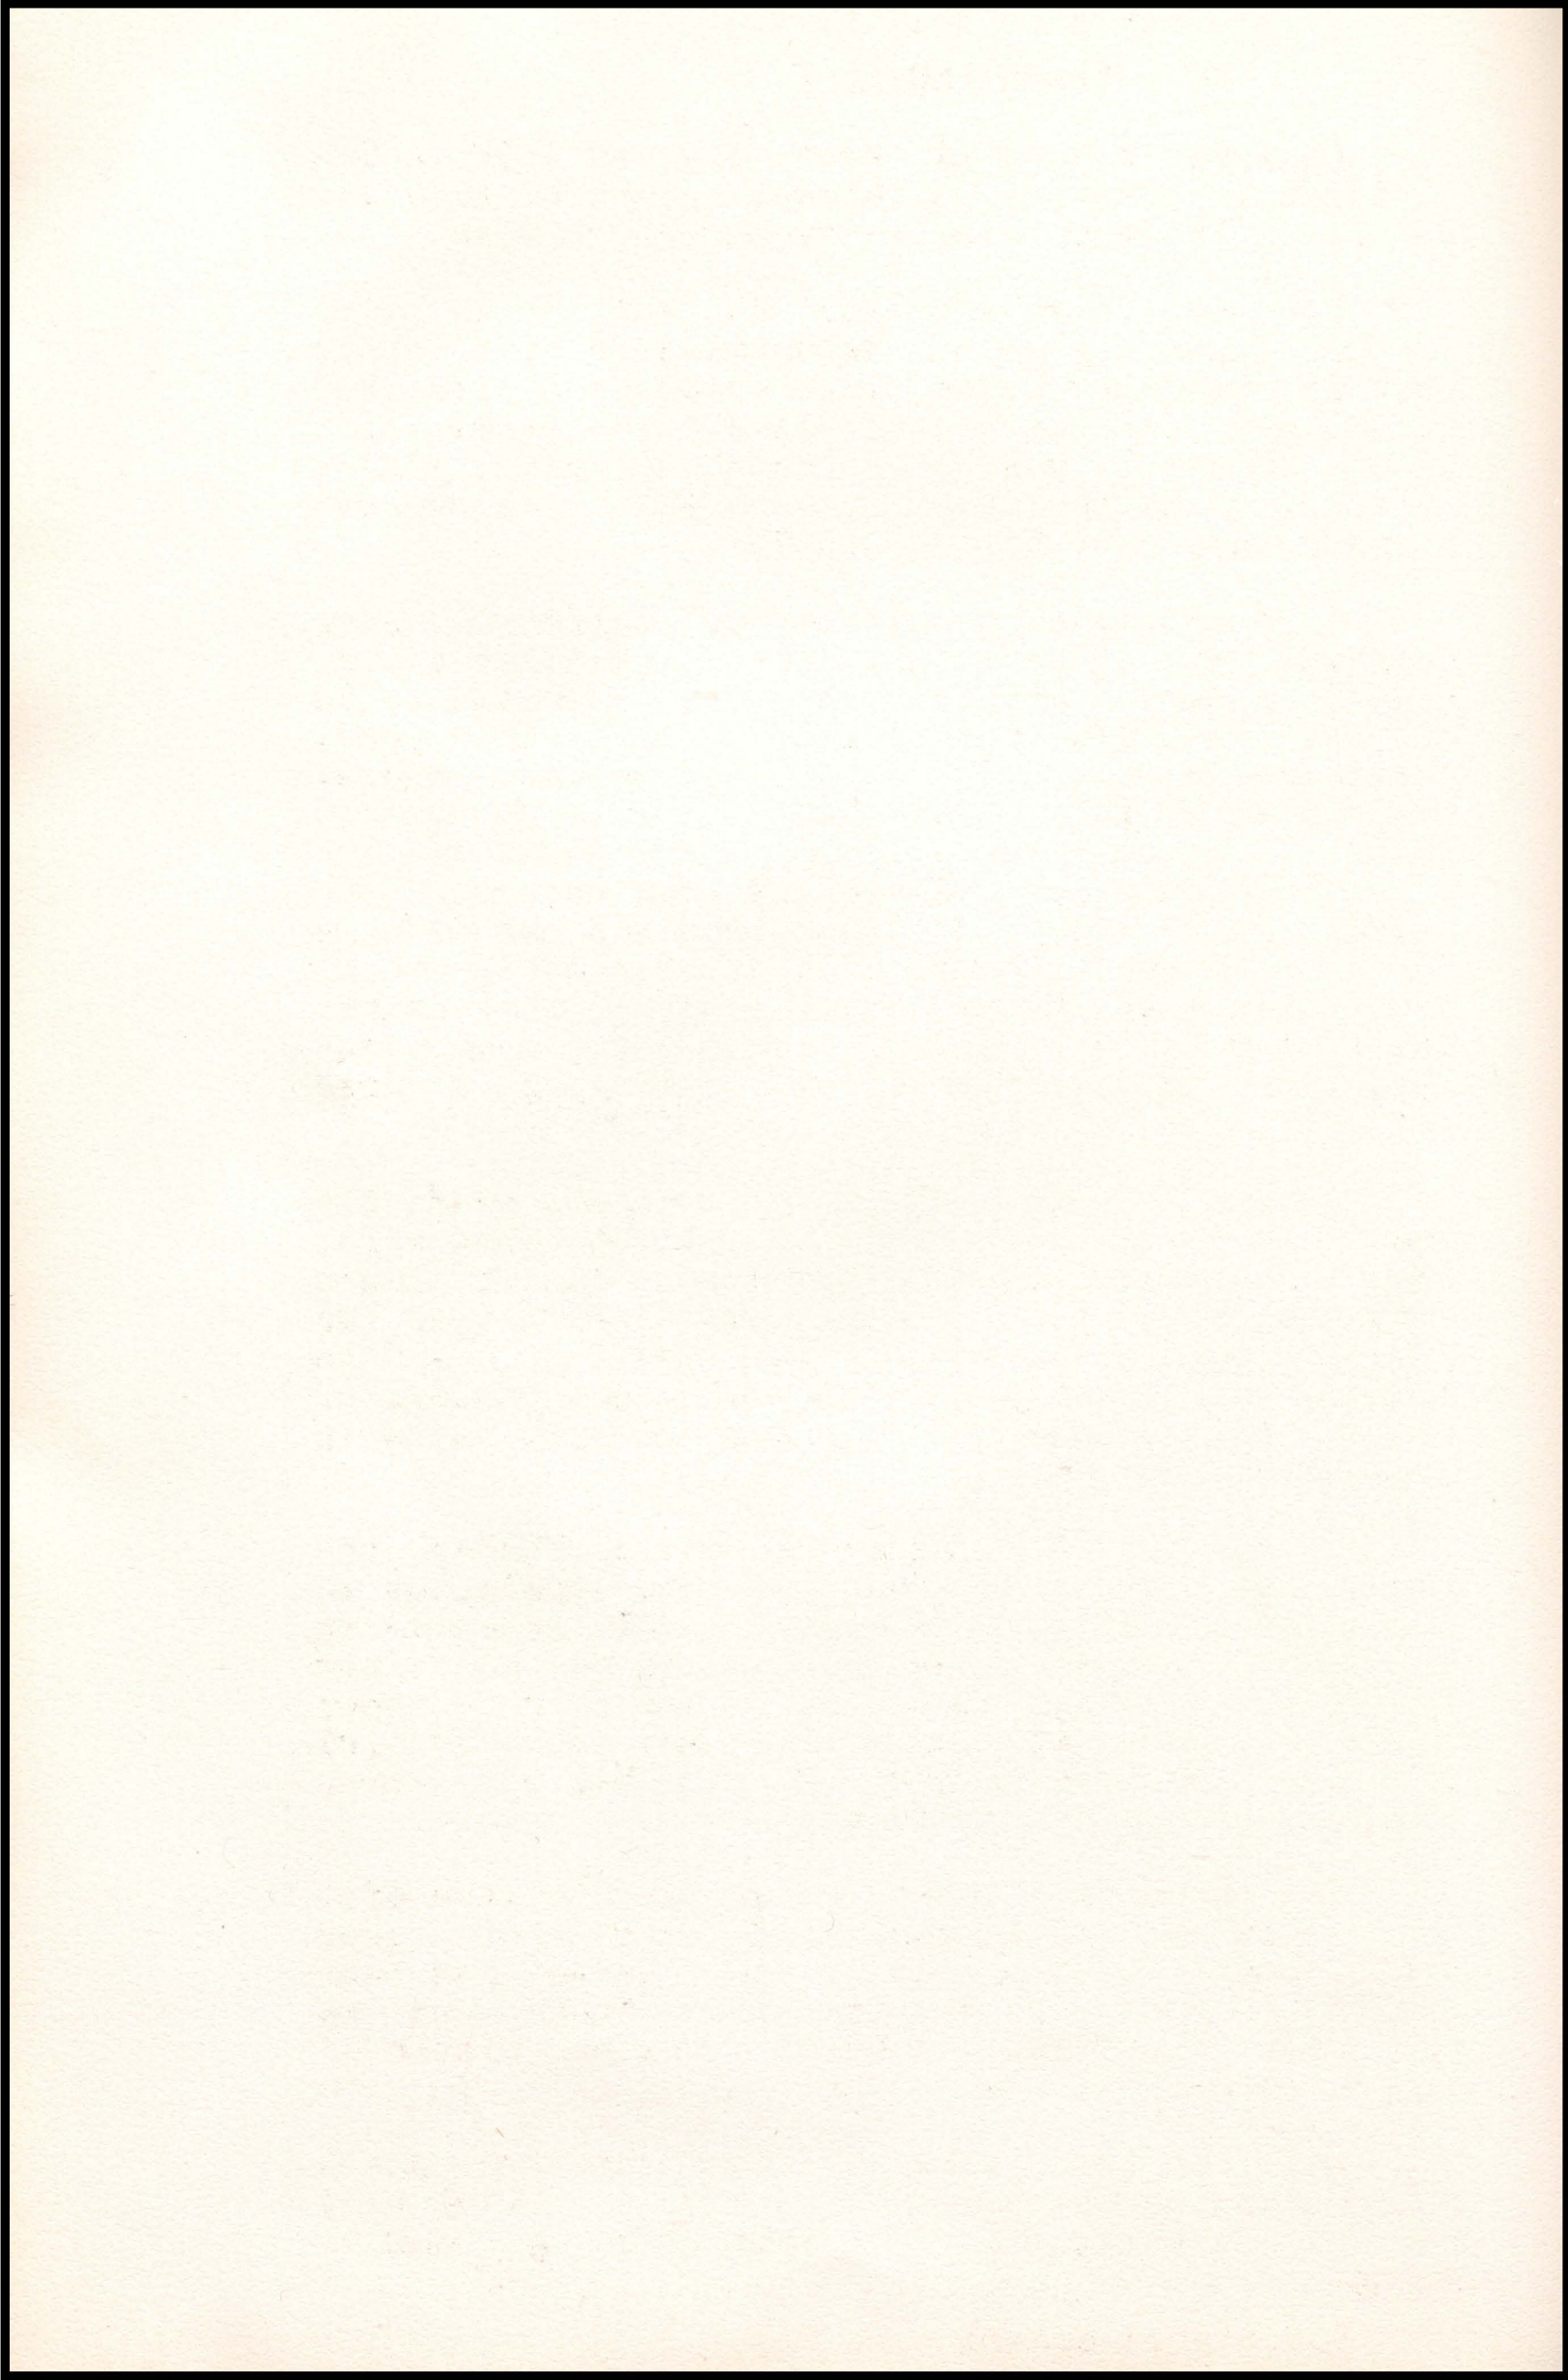

We the seniors of 1954 will to Mrs. Morris our appreciation for her enjoyable chorus sessions and our secret hiding places for her textbooks.

To Mr. Trott we will our sarcastic remarks to be used on under classmen when necessary. We enjoyed his peppy econ. geog. sessions, and may they remain that way.

Mr. O'Brien receives our thanks for his fine cooperation and sound advice. We are sure he will never forget our braininess (?) in his math class.

To Mr. Olson we will our gratitude for his fine guidance in dramatics and his dry jokes in creat. writing. We're sure we will all be able to write novels now !

Further, the deponent saith not!

CLASS PROPHECY

On this beautiful June day in 1959, a TWA airliner is leaving a Chicago airport, traveling to points in South America by way of Bermuda.

Yes, you've guessed it! Pat Mullany is pilot of this super air ship. We noticed in high school that Pat was very much interested in flying, and we see now that he has realized his dreams. If, in his dreams he was surrounded by pretty girls, he's not dreaming any more. Those attractive stewardesses have him surrounded.

A young woman in a trim Navy uniform is seen boarding the plane; she looks familiar to us. Why, it's Marylu Rhodes! She was selected to be pictured on the recruiting posters this year. Marylu now enjoys the position of private secretary to an Admiral in the Navy.

An attractive blonde is now entering the plane. It's Kathy Williams, who has made a name for herself by designing clothes for movie stars. Kathy designed those bathing suits that Esther Williams will be wearing in her next movie, and also Terry Moore's beautiful wedding gown last year.

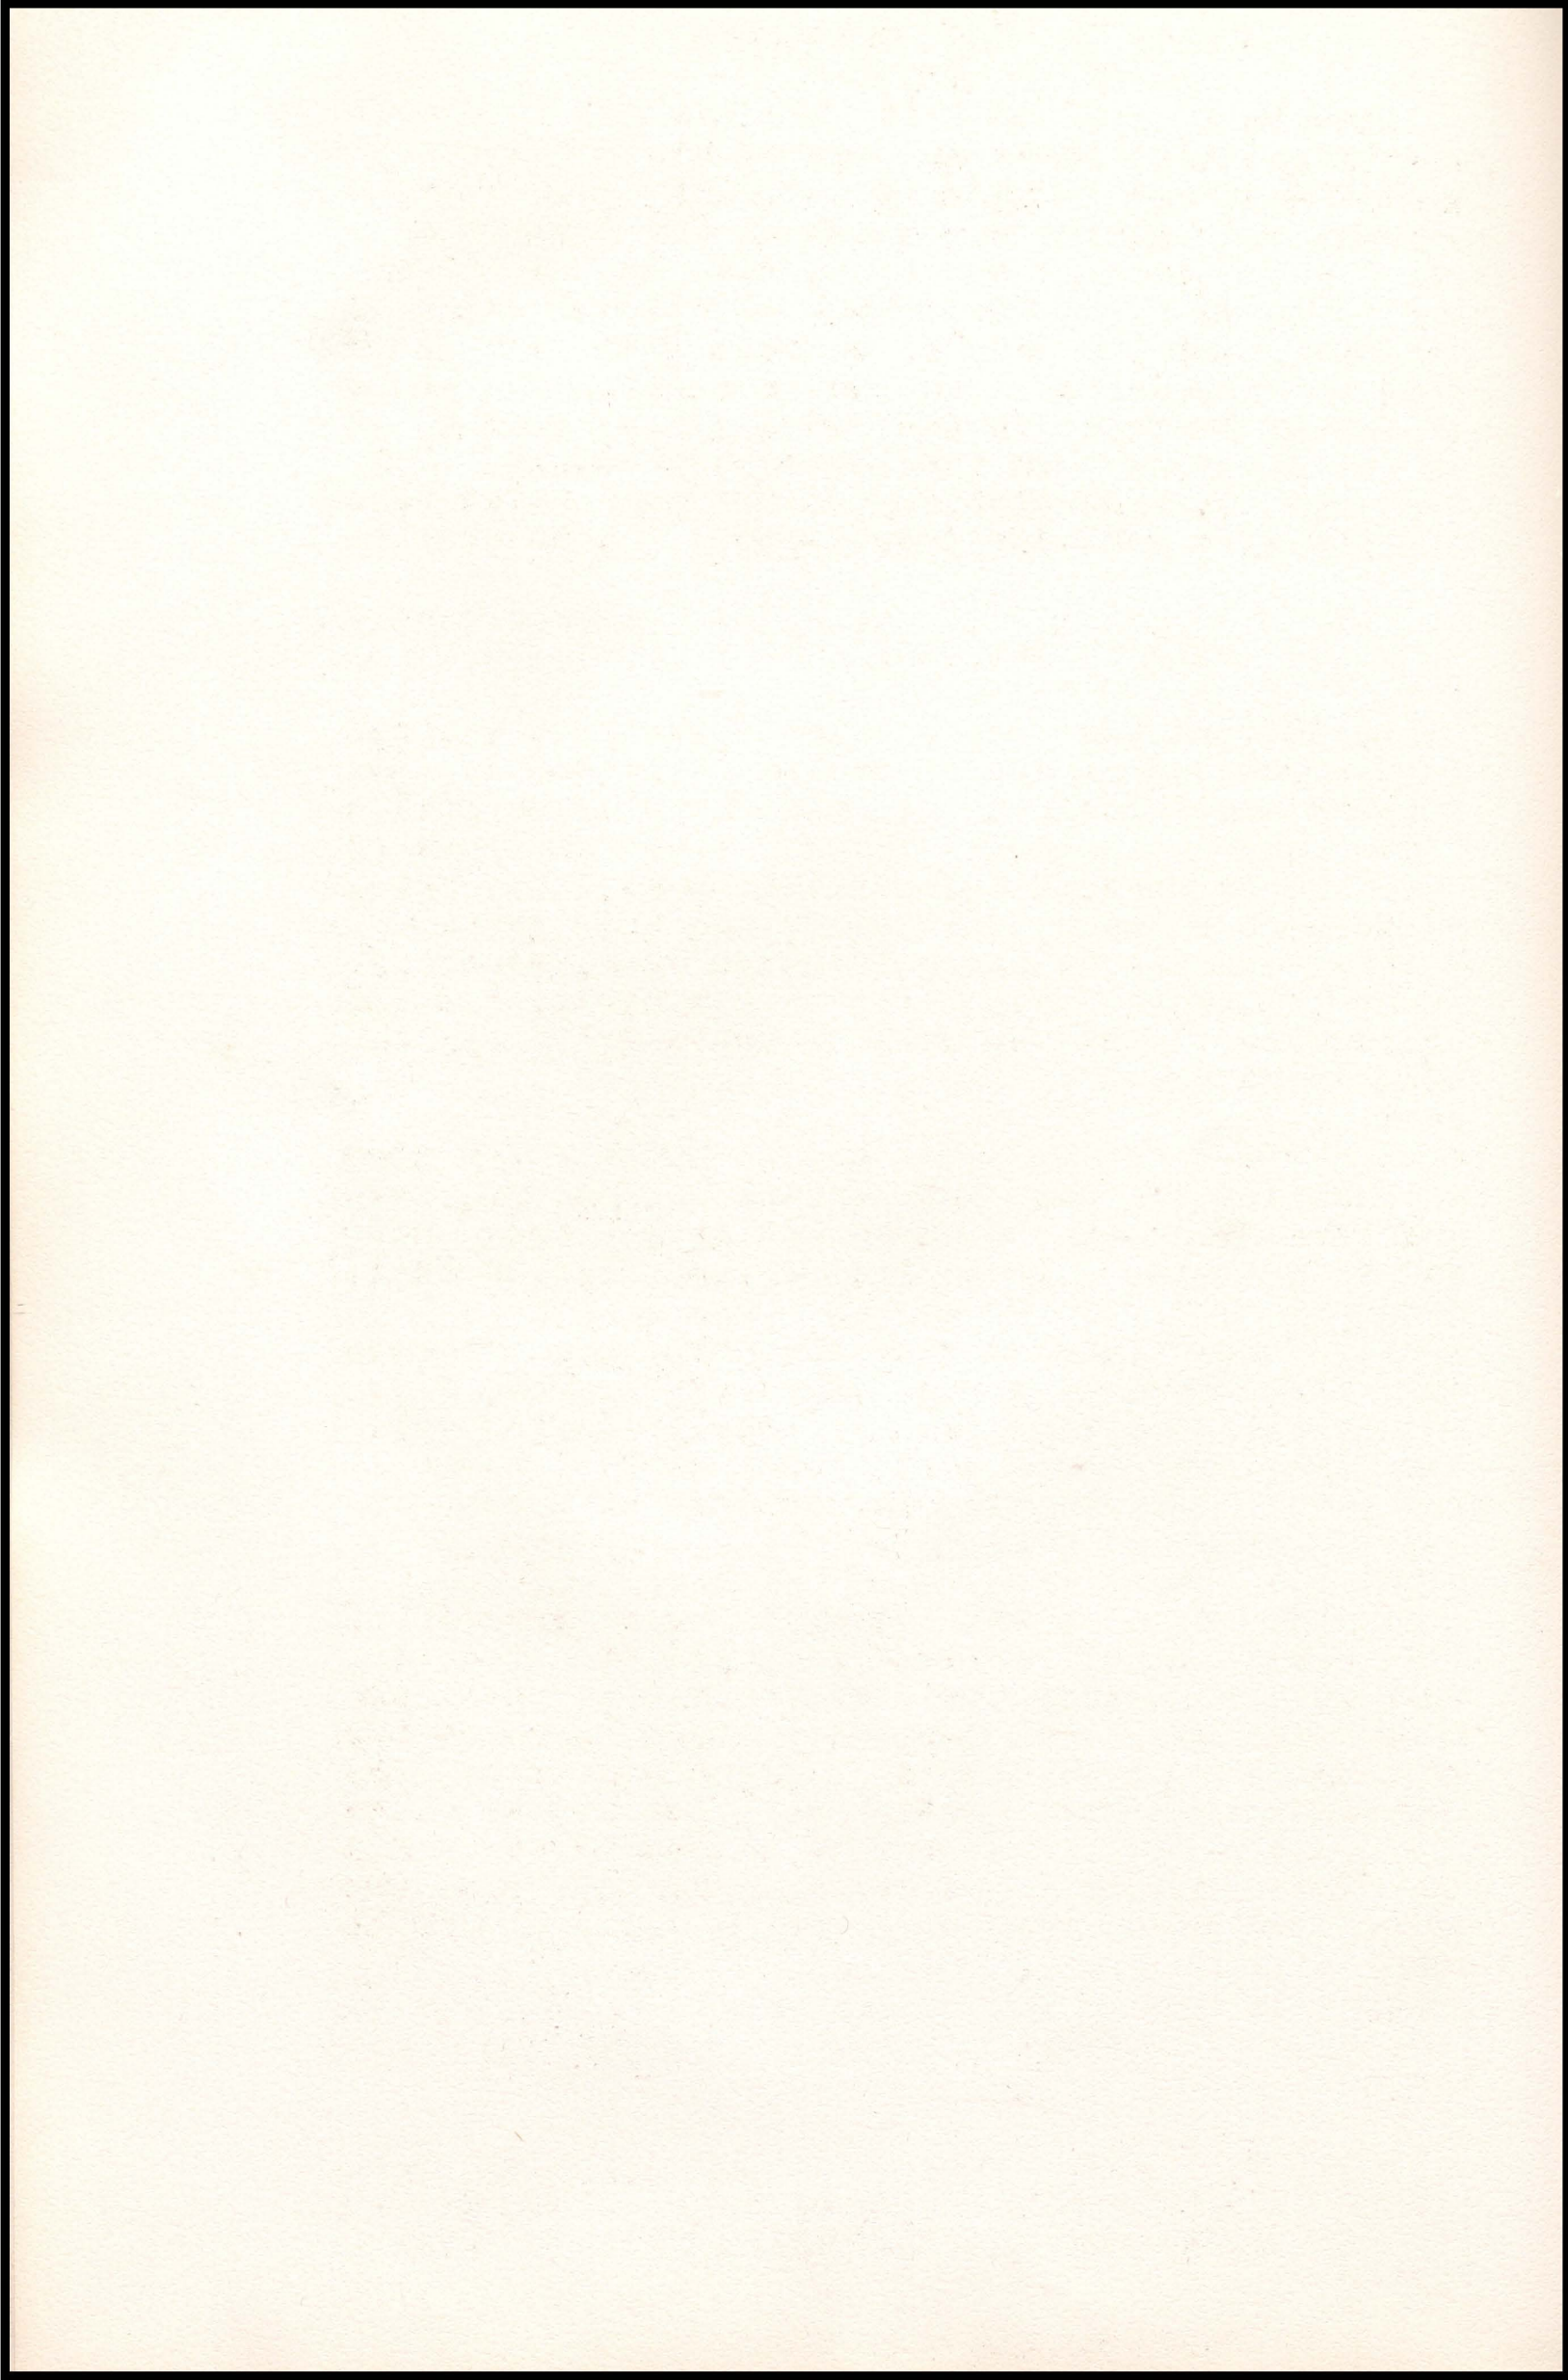

Behind her we see a man who has obviously spent his winters in a warmer climate than ours, for he has a deep brown tan. Why we almost didn't recognize him. It's Charlie Landman--Charles has always been interested in big business, and he prefers to concentrate on oil wells now instead of basketball. We hear he has several oil wells in Argentina.

We now see a young couple coming through the gate. As they are about to enter the plane we recognize one of them as Murial. Only recently we had found out that she has changed her name from McClellan to Brassfield. Kathy designed the gown that she wore at her wedding and the beautiful suit she's attired in now. Murial had been working in a bank since graduation.

The plane is almost ready for the take-off. Oops! One more passenger, and guess who? LaRee Dunn almost missed the plane. LaRee has been working in Bonnie Doon's ice cream stand, and we had heard that she had become the proprietor of the business.

Well, it looks like there has been an unexpected reunion of the class of '54. While they are busy chatting, we note where each of them is going.

CLASS PROPHECY CONCLUDED

Marylu is off to join the Admiral in Rio de Janerio to take notes at one of his foreign conference meetings. Kathy is touring South America to study old styles of clothing for designing ideas for the picture now being made by Paramount. Charlie is on a routine check of his oil wells in Argentina. Murial and her husband Wayne are traveling to Bermuda for a two weeks honeymoon. LaRee is looking forward to the idea of setting up an ice cream business in the deserts of Chile. Pat, of course, is the pilot for us all, and we're sure he will help make our journey safe and enjoyable.

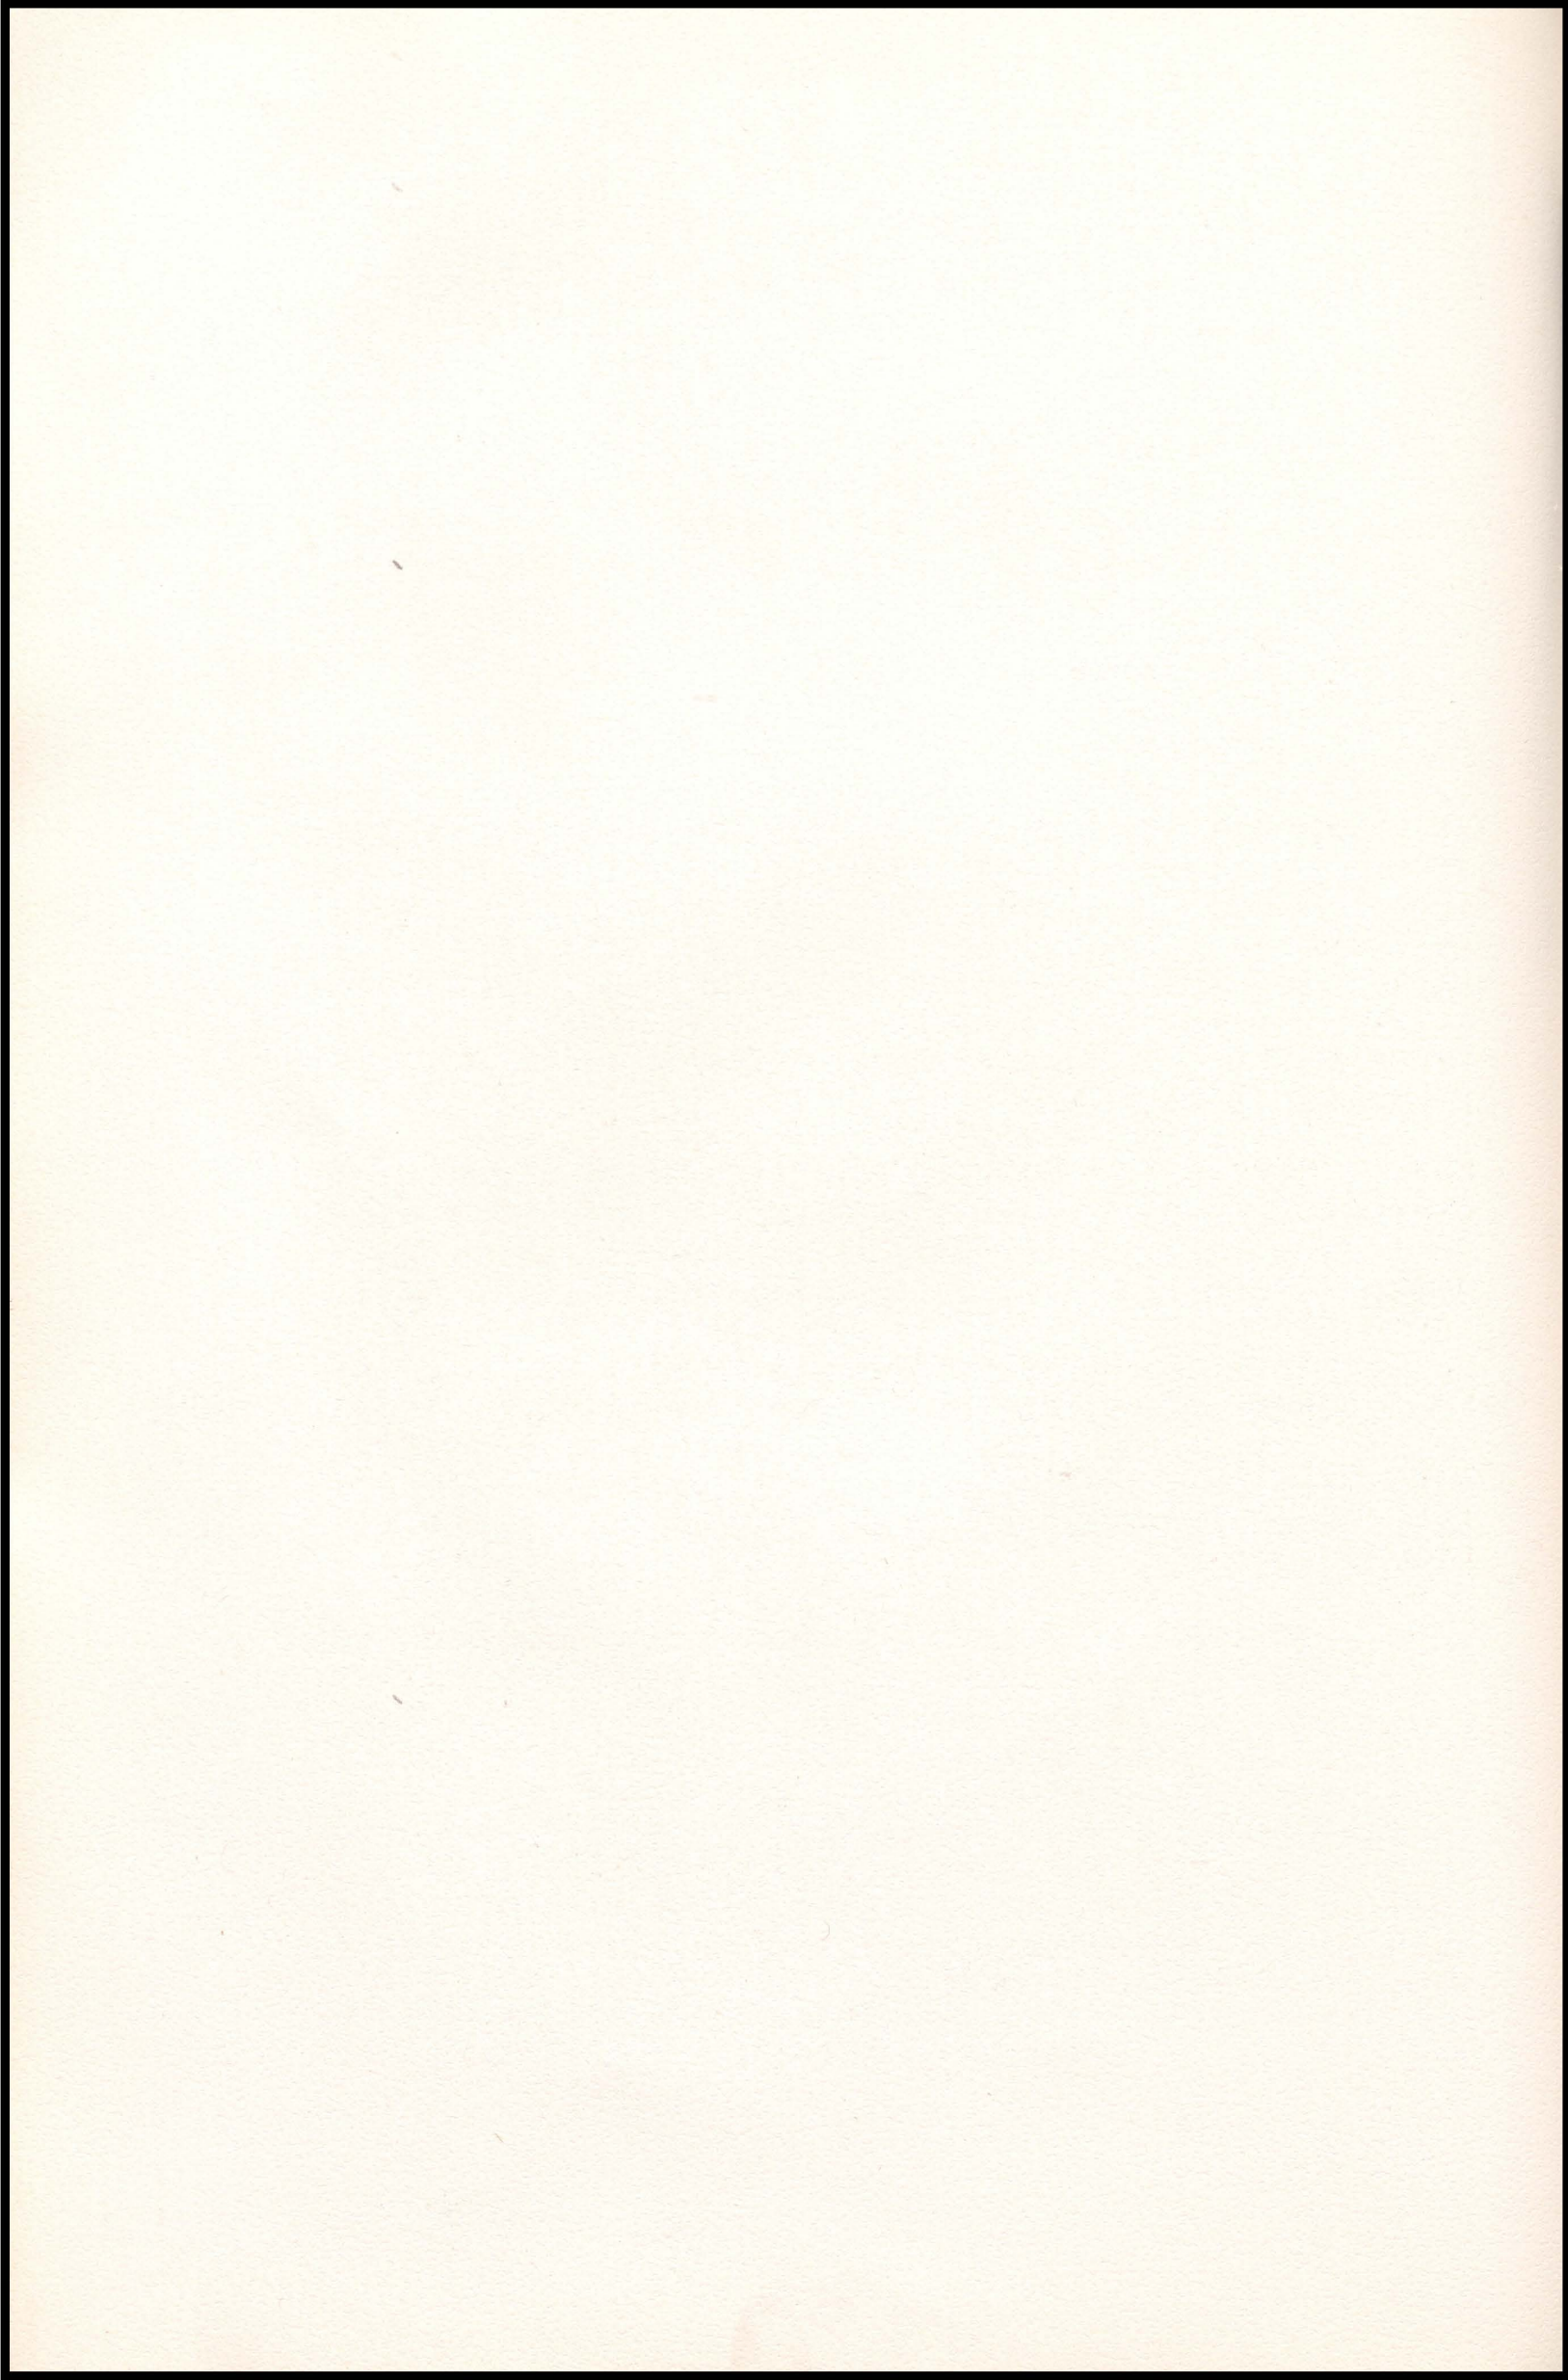

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Sept., 1950-Fifteen shy, timid freshmen entered the hallowed portals of Amberg High School. Everything was strange to us, but the welcome smiles of the upper-classmen quickly made us feel at home. Three students, Phyllis Downs, Ray Prue, and Barbara Warner, left us during this year. We shall always remember our freshman year, especially our initiation, sophomore return party, and all the carefree thoughts which always accompany the freshman class.

Sept., 1951-Here we are again, with a few more serious thoughts about our futures. However, several more classmates decided to leave; they were Sandra Engquist, Dale McClellan, and William Hall.

Sept., 1952-The junior year was much more interesting than our previous years--our prom, field trips, etc. all helped to make it an enjoyable one. Two more desks were found empty, however; they were formerly occupied by Shirley Warner and Clyde Weycker.

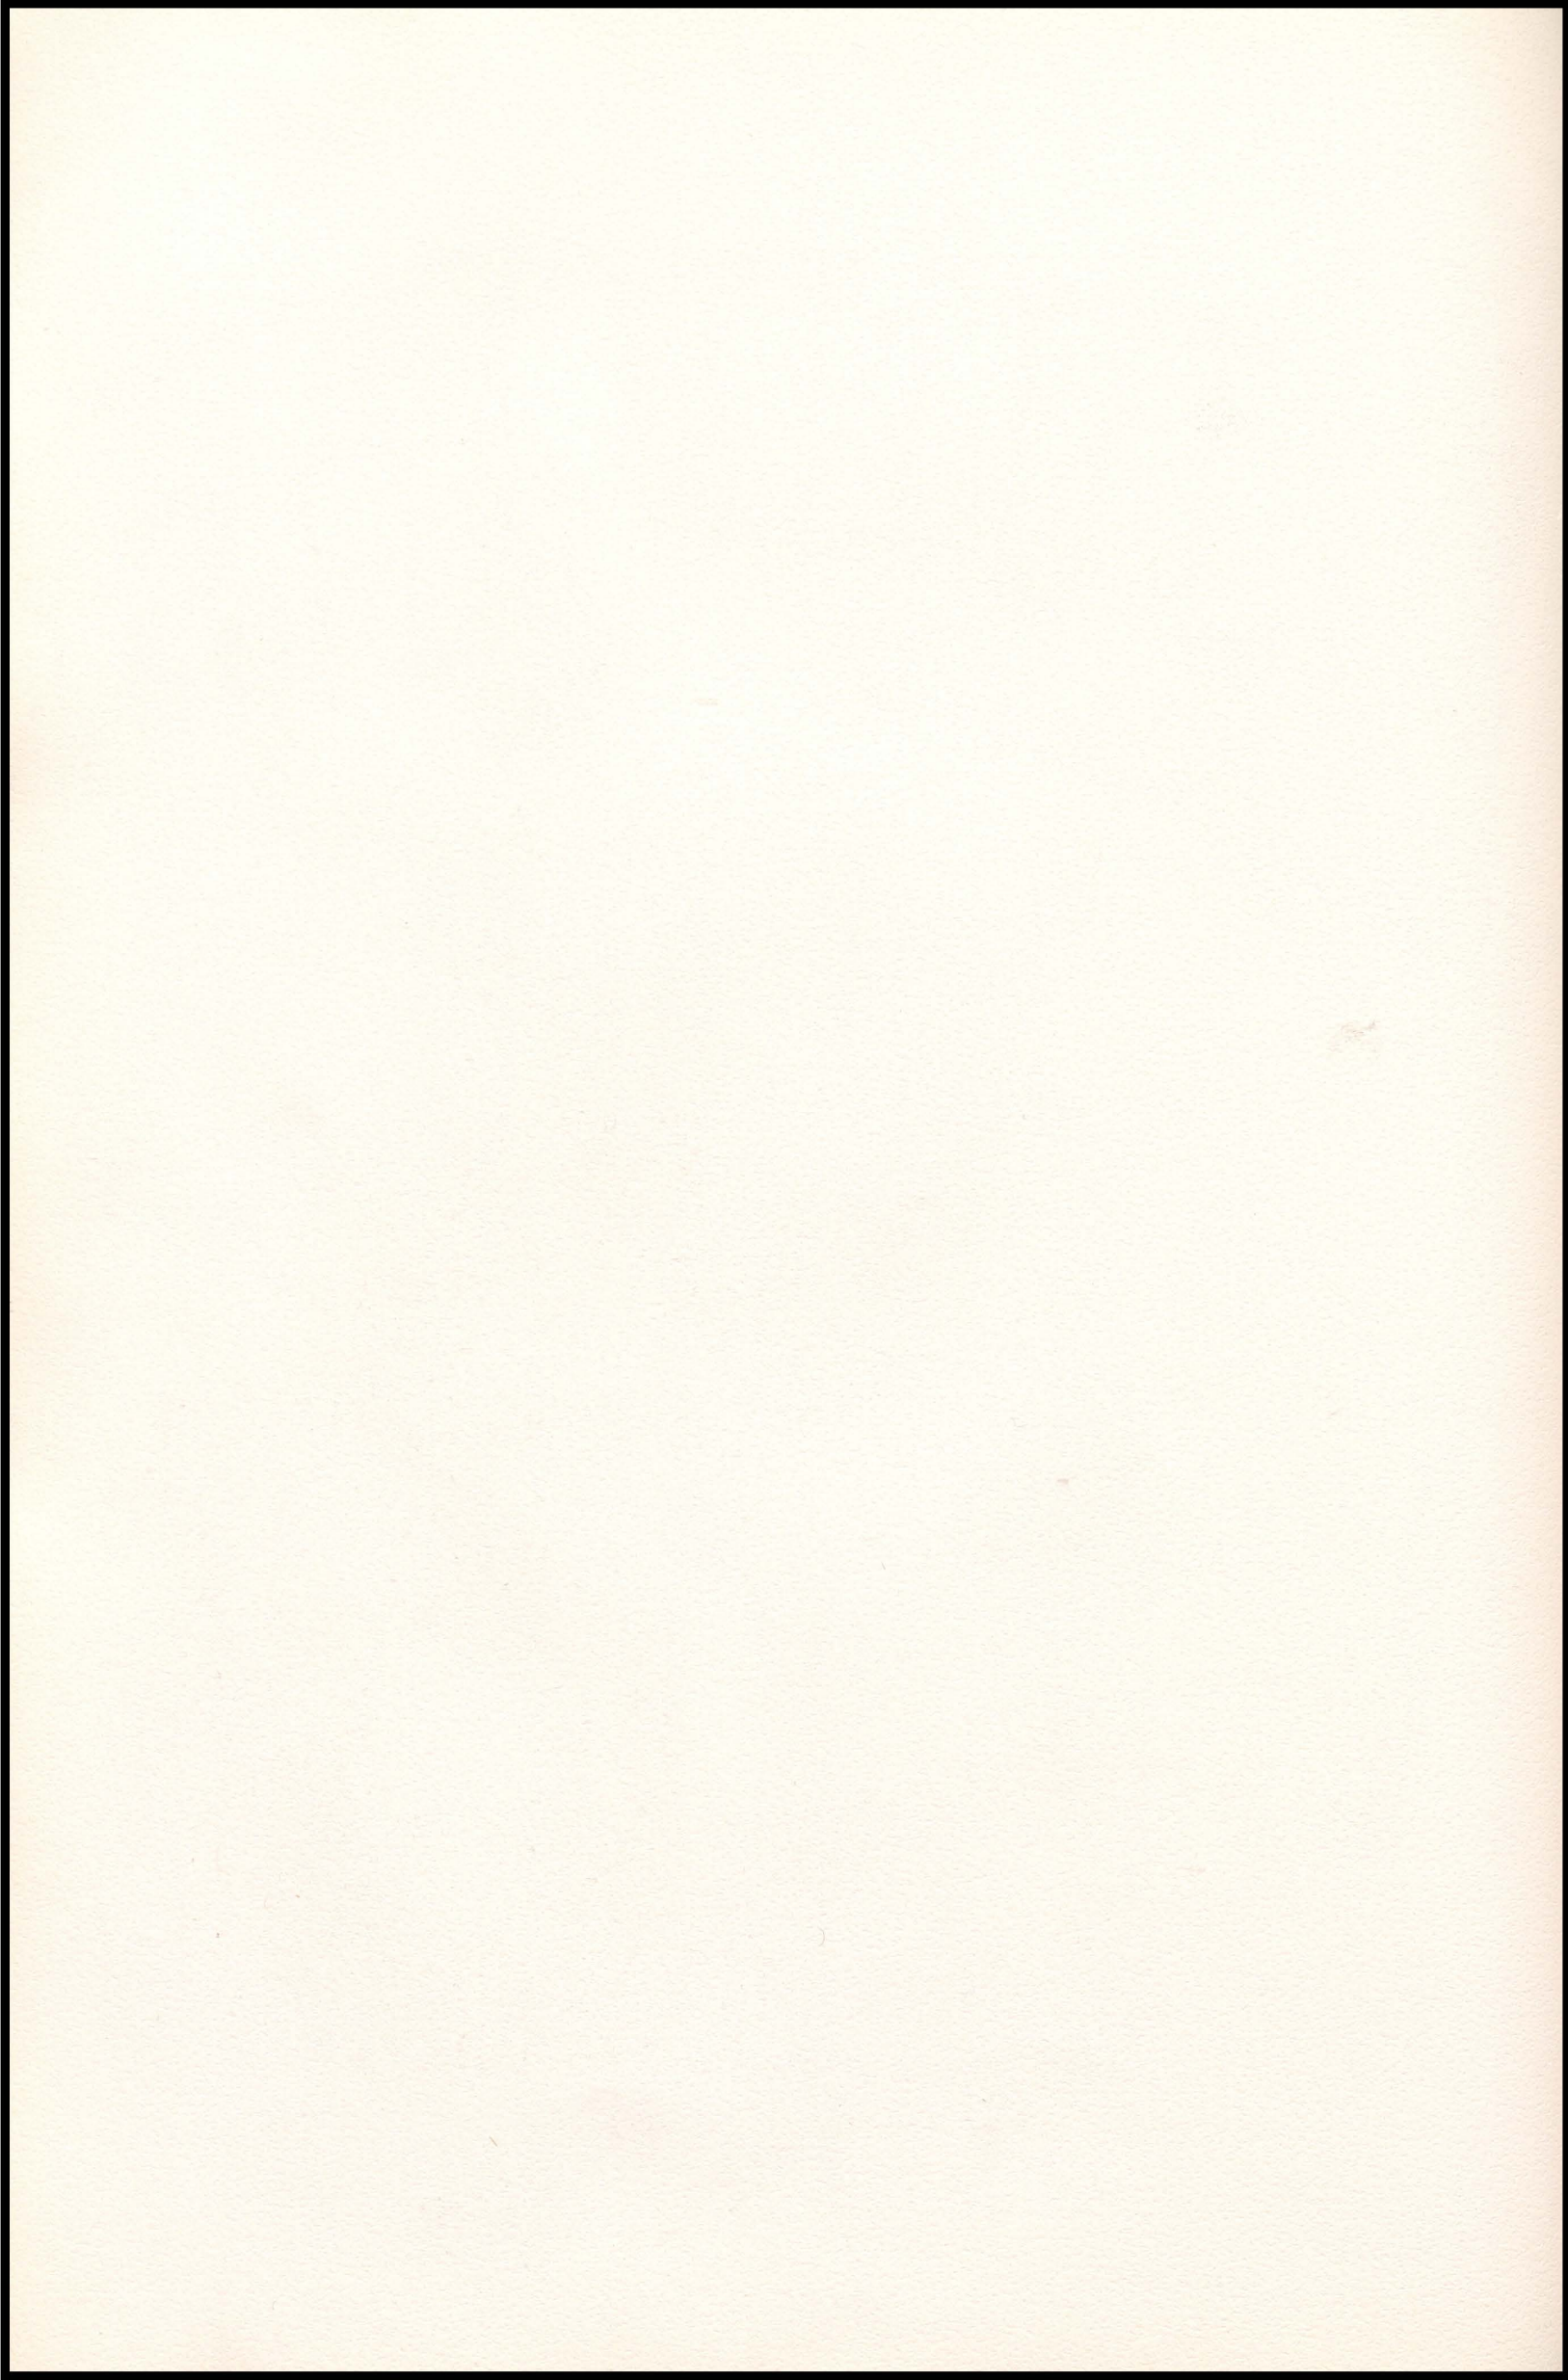

Sept., 1953-Now, we have reached the crossroads of life. The six who remained faithful to the class, are about to receive their diplomas. It has been an exciting year with many activities, such as our fall carnival, hunter's ball, and class trip. The four years have been grand ones, so now we close this chapter of our lives with a fond adieu to all the lower classmen, friends, and teachers, who helped to make our high school years memorable ones.
